

St. James's

EPISCOPAL CHURCH
West Hartford Center

November 2014

From the Rector's Study

"Money Matters"

Yes, it's that time of year again

THE Episcopal Church defines membership using three criteria. These criteria are: (1) regular participation in the Eucharist in public worship, (2) involvement in the wider life and ministries of the parish and (3) regular and faithful giving to the financial health and operation of the parish. This third criterion does not mean dropping a few dollars in the plate every now and then, but the prayerful and generous filling out of a pledge card and the faithful attention to the fulfillment of that financial pledge.

While everyone has different abilities to meet these membership criteria, it is the intentionality and prayerful way in which you try that matters. The Episcopal Church has never had a set of beliefs that we use as a litmus test for membership—"a confessional church." We are a "communion"—we base membership on participation in the faithful gathering of the parish in our participation in God's mission and ministry.

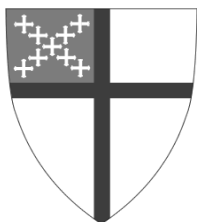

Every year in the fall, churches and other faith communities around the country directly address the issues around the financial realities of their operating budgets and the successful continuation of their current ministries as well as the ever-changing needs of their communities. There are as many ways to do this as there are parishes—some low key, some very aggressive, and some biblically/theologically based, while others might be based solely on the line items of the budget itself. Here at St. James's we are no different; we have expenses related to our participation in God's mission and ministry that need to be addressed. We do try to keep our annual stewardship program somewhat low key, providing each household with the financial facts of parish life while at the same time encouraging folks to come to a fuller understanding of God's generosity and abundance. As people of faith we are called to find the theologically and spiritually healthy and appropriate ways of responding.

No one likes to talk about money in the context of something so personal and intimate as our relationship with God and each other. I don't like to ask any more than you like to be asked. But here are the nuts and bolts of it. In 2014 St. James's had a budget of $764,300.00 of which $543,700.00 came from pledges and $17,700.00 came from other donations. The remaining income of $202,900.00 came from endowment and building income. That means that nearly 75% of our operating budget came from you.

Thank You.

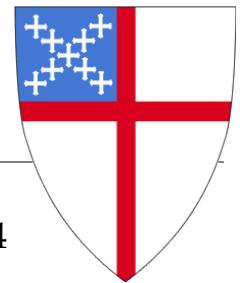

Another reality is that we can't rely on a small percentage of the congregation to meet our financial needs. But for theological, spiritual, and moral needs we need everyone to participate—that's what it means to be a member, and that's what it means to be a faithful Episcopalian.

Faithfully,

To Learn, Live and Teach the Values of the Gospel of Jesus Christ

Treasurer's Report

St. James's Treasury Report Reported Results Year to Date through September 2014

Current Position: The church finances in the month of September seem to be following the changing weather of the fall season. After reporting an overall $5,400 positive variance to the budget as of the end of August, the church is now in a $6,251 shortfall relative to budget. The primary reason for the $11,650 change during the month is due to a large decrease in pledges relative to budget during the month. At the end of August, pledges were $2,100 below budget; at the end of September, they are $12,600 below budget. Most of the remaining income items changed little during the month. Expenses improved during the month as they improved from $11,500 less than budget as of the end of August to $12,338 less than budget at the end of September. Expenses will continue to be monitored and we'll hopefully see a rebound in pledge payments during the final few months of the year.

Income & Expense Summary:

Category	YTD Actual	YTD Budget	YTD Variance	Total Annual Budget
Income (+)	$533,761	552,350	18,589 Below plan	764,300
Expense (-)	554,322	566,660	12,338 Below plan	764,300
Net	(20,561)	(14,310)	6,251 Negative variance to budget	0

Income: Year-to-date (YTD) actual income is $18,589 below budget (or 3.4% worse than budget). As of the end of August, this figure was $6,160 less than budget (1.2% of budget).

Expense: YTD expenses remained relatively stable during the month. As of the end of August, expenses were $12,338 below budget; this difference represents 2.2% of the budgeted amount. Expenses were $11,530 (or 2.3%) above budget at the end of August.

From the Assistant Rector

Dear Sisters and Brothers,
From what I can recall, the process for Confirmation when I was an adolescent... a younger adolescent... involved a handful of classes and a big celebration after the bishop did his thing and confirmed that we had confirmed to be confirmed.

I remember one class in which we got a look behind the altar and in the sacristy to talk about how Episcopalians like to give really complicated names to really ordinary things (aspergillum is my favorite...Google it).

That's about it.

Don't get me wrong—I'm sure there was more to it, and I'm glad for having had the experience, but the impact those classes have on my day-to-day life seem minimal. That's because immediate takeaways are not the goal of a Confirmation program—it's not merely a time for church leaders to pass on knowledge to the new generation; if that were the case, I'd simply hand out a few books and ask the students to study.

We do strive to cover such topics as liturgy, theology, and church history in a way that is approachable and engaging, but the goal of our Confirmation program is to value the beliefs and insights of the students while facilitating a meaningful encounter for them with the richness of our tradition.

Ten fantastic high schoolers are several classes into this year's Confirmation course at St. James's. On Columbus Day Weekend, we all spent time together at Camp Washington. At the end of the first night, one of the chaperones asked me what I hoped for out of the retreat. I said that I hoped the group would become a community. Some of them had already been familiar with one another, but many of them were strangers. By the end of the weekend, everyone seemed to have a much greater sense of one another, and they had started to build a group identity.

Had I told the chaperone that my goal for the weekend was to convince all ten high schoolers that the Episcopal Church is perfect and that they'd be fools to not become life long members, I would have failed miserably and missed the point of Confirmation altogether.

Don't get me wrong, the students will hear of the richness of our tradition and learn how The Episcopal Church came to be. They'll learn about saints and heretics, about scripture and liturgy and theology, but most importantly, they'll have a plethora of opportunities to engage each other in the context of Christian community.

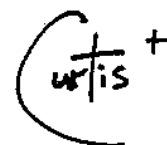

As Lisa Kimball of Virginia Theological Seminary and The Confirmation Project summarizes, Confirmation can be, "an opportunity for a life-shaping encounter with the church."

When I think about my Confirmation class, I don't remember much, but when I look back on my whole experience at Church of the Holy Spirit in Battle Ground, Washington and Church of the Good Shepherd in Vancouver, Washington, I remember fondly how I felt valued as one member of Christ's body.

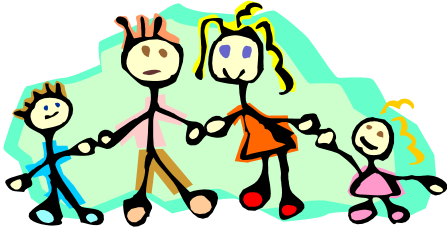

That is our hope for the Confirm Not Conform program at St. James's—not that we'll turn out identically perfect Episcopalians, but that every child of God will know that they are valued, and that they will have meaningful experiences with the church.

If our liturgy and theology and history don't help us love and value one another, then all of those aspects of our tradition are irrelevant and not worth passing onto the emerging generation of young people, whom we are privileged to have in our midst.

Your brother in Christ,

St. James's Center for Children

*nurturing your children's spiritual life
from birth through high school*

I AM so excited about how our new program year has begun at St. James's. We have had a great September and October with a lot of amazing activities around this place.

The elementary school Sunday school began with a unit on Joseph from the book of Genesis. This is a rich and deep story to explore with children. All children understand the feelings that Joseph's brothers feel and can learn a lot about forgiveness from Joseph himself. It also delves into the idea that God uses bad things for something good. A special thanks to Virginia Kramer, Lesley Toutain, Marilyn Tomlinson, and Elizabeth Waterman for working with these children in September and October. You all did an amazing job. If you are interested in leading the elementary school children this year in a Sunday school unit, ask one of these wonderful women. They will tell you all about it. In November, we will be exploring what it means to be good stewards of all that God has given us, including the earth, our time, talent and treasure. I am hoping we can tie it all in with stewardship for the adults.

In the preschool room, we had a complete makeover in September. The children are enjoying a beautiful new Sunday school classroom led by Abigail Fisher, Carolyn O'Sullivan, and Kristen Kirsch. I can't wait to see what these ladies can accomplish in their newly renovated space.

In middle school we have been watching the film, Patch Adams with the late Robin Williams. This is a wonderful film about the healing power of laughter and genuine nurturing. I am enjoying my time spent with these young people.

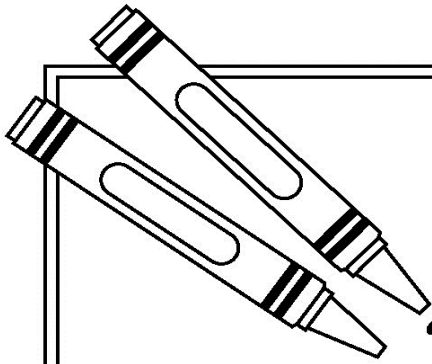

In my opinion, one of the most innovative and exciting events that happened this fall, the high school members of the church came up with all on their own. Joe Duva, a junior in high school, active member of the youth group and member of his school's rowing crew, had a Sunday morning regatta. When his fellow youth group members discovered this, they decided to go after church as a group to cheer him on. This, to me, is exactly what we should be doing as a church. We should be out and about, supporting each other in all areas of our lives. I love that these young people decided to do this together and that they had so much fun together supporting Joe. Thanks to all the drivers and chaperones and to Curtis for making it all happen.

Some more activities for young people at St. James's that happened in October include the return of Rhythms of Grace, a liturgical experience for children with special needs. As I said at the beginning of this article, there is a lot going on around here.

So, as I always say, keep the children of this parish in your prayers. If you are able to help out by leading a Sunday school unit let me know. It is lots of fun and a very easy and rewarding way to get involved here at St. James's!

Psalm 107:1

Answer: "Give thanks to the LORD for he is good."

From the Organist/Choirmaster

ON October 5, St. James's was treated to a Sunday morning service without our pipe organ. Many of you were curious to know what happened, so I thought I would take this opportunity to answer questions and provide some general information on the current state of our organ.

The organ at St. James's is a giant musical instrument. It contains thousands of pipes, many thousands of moving parts, and was custom designed and built for us in 1962 by the Austin Organ Company of Hartford. We have a unique musical instrument that is 52 years old, with thousands upon thousands of parts. Now consider that this instrument has been used heavily within those decades. These days, a minimum of five musicians play our organ each week for practice, performance, and lessons. Think about it this way: could you imagine sharing a vintage 1962 automobile among five people, week after week? A vehicle that has never been rebuilt?

On October 5, we couldn't use the organ because the mounting system for the blower motor—the engine which turns a large fan to create sufficient wind for the pipes—had reached the end of its life and was placing the fan blades at risk of damage. It was quite amazing that two small pieces of decaying rubber could silence an organ for five days!. Austin Organs came in and replaced the mounting system so our blower motor is now much quieter and no longer in danger of failure. And by the end of October, Austin Organs will have installed a new rectifier—the mechanism which converts alternating current to direct current. The current rectifier is original to the organ and on the brink of failure, so we are preemptively replacing it. If the rectifier failed it would be sudden and disruptive to a Sunday morning.

Until a much larger rebuilding project is initiated, we will do everything we can to keep our organ ready for services. At St. James's, we are so very lucky to have a large pipe organ, wonderful choir, and nice acoustics. We are even luckier to have a parish that supports these unique musical traditions!

November Outreach ... Intergenerational Event "Let's Stuff Stockings!"

HELP MAKE a difference at Christmas for the men at two area shelters—our collection of warm socks and toiletries for the men at the Open Hearth and the Salvation Army shelters in Hartford is underway! This outreach project has been in existence since 1989 and is very much appreciated by those who receive these items. Please continue to bring in your donations during the month of November and place them at any of the entrances to the church building. Join us on the First Sunday of Advent, November 30, after the 9:30 service to assemble the stockings! These stuffed socks are often the only holiday gift these men receive.

Requested stuffer items are: sample-size (small) personal care products such as pocket combs, toothpaste, tooth brushes, deodorant, shaving cream, skin cream, nail files, nail clippers, non-alcoholic mouthwash, shampoo, disposable razors and sample size soaps. We are also collecting warm, thick men's socks. We could also use some candy canes to add an additional holiday touch to the socks.

Thank you for supporting this outreach project!

Food Collection ...

PLEASE remember to bring a non-perishable item with you to St. James's each time you come to church! Look for the large, black bins around the building marked "non-perishable foods" or place the items in the wagon located in the cloister. Thank You!

Apple and Pie Sale Results

THE apple and pie sales held recently on Sundays, September 14 and October 5 were a success! A big thank you to all who purchased pies, apples, and other fruit during these sales. We raised a profit of $337, and these proceeds will greatly benefit the Feeding Programs here at St. James's. Next year the outreach committee plans to offer a fall harvest sale which will include mums, apple cider, apples, pies, and more!

Angel Tree 2014

THIS Advent Season we will continue to support the Angel Tree Project which helps so many families with loved ones who are incarcerated. This program offers a wonderful opportunity to bring the love of Jesus Christ to the children of prisoners during this special season of caring.

The Angel Tree tags with the names of the children and their gift wishes will be available in the Cloister after Sunday services beginning Sunday, November 30. Suggested cost of the gifts is $25. Please bring your wrapped and tagged gifts to the church office by Sunday, December 14. Questions or to volunteer, please call Barbara Schiller, at 860-651-7332.

Annual Toy Collection

ONCE again we are collecting toys for children in the Hartford area. Toys, games and fun gifts are needed for children of all ages from toddlers to early teens. These gifts will then be delivered to various churches who will then deliver them to the families in need. Please place your unwrapped gifts at any of the three Church entrances by Sunday, December 7. Thank you for making Christmas a happier time for these families!
