“Hear My Prayer” Choral Music of Felix Mendelssohn

The Choir of St James's Episcopal Church with members of The Hartford Symphony Orchestra; Vaughn Mauren, conductor.

Beautifully composed, with Romantic harmonies and grand sweeps of melody overlaying Classical and Baroque forms, the choral music of Felix Mendelssohn is treasured by choral singers and a delightful experience for listeners, especially those who may not be familiar with Mendelssohn's vocal music.

No tickets are required for this special concert.

The Vienna Boys Choir in Concert

Concerts at St James's will present the only Connecticut appearance of the Vienna Boys Choir when the famed ensemble tours the United States in spring of 2019.

The Vienna Boys Choir has become so popular that most of its concerts are now performed in civic auditoriums and performance centers that can accommodate very large audiences. When the boys perform at St James's in West Hartford, their pure voices will be heard in the natural acoustic of a church sanctuary, a space that is a “natural” for choral music.

Tickets: $20-$65 on sale now at Eventbrite or stjameswh.org. A seating chart is shown at that link. Concerts by the Vienna Boys Choir usually sell out; early ticket purchase is advised. The Vienna Boys Choir appears by arrangement with Opus 3 Artists.

FRIDAY

MAY 31, 2019, 7:00 PM

Vaughn Mauren, organist

Vaughn Mauren plays the re-dedicatory recital of the church's recently rebuilt and enlarged Austin Organ. Organ music of Imperial Great Britain.

Free concert/no tickets.

All events take place in the spacious, accessible, acoustically vibrant sanctuary of St James's Episcopal Church.
